St. Louis, Mo., November 13.—For the twenty-third time in the history of the organization, the Woman's Christian Temperance union met in annual convention here, this morning. Nearly 2,000 delegates and visitors were present when Miss Frances E. Willard called the convention to order. The executive committee recommended that the W. C. T. U. begin an active crusade against the evils of gambling, and the committee on legislation was authorized to take measures towards the abolition of this vice.

After the usual committees were appointed, Miss Willard addressed the convention. She spoke of the heroines of the rank and file who had borne and labored and had patience when the W. C. T. U. passed under the rod of a nation's criticism.

St. Louis, Missouri, November 13.—Noble, self-sacrificing women who, all over this country and in many parts of distant lands, are laborers in the cause of temperance and humanity, filled the music hall, with its capacity for 5,000 people, to overflowing this morning. It was the opening of the twenty-third annual convention of the National W. C. T. U., or the "White Ribboners," as they are known throughout the civilized world. Prior to the formal inauguration of exercises there was a prayer meeting in the Schuyler memorial hall, the spiritual feast being conducted by the national evangelists, headed by Mrs. Elizabeth W. Greenwood, of Brooklyn. After these services the music hall filled up rapidly. It was elaborately decorated with national colors and appropriate mottoes, while the locations of the state delegations were designated by standards.

Miss Francis Willard received an ovation upon making her appearance on the platform. With her were Miss Ballington Booth of the American volunteers; Emma Booth Tucker and Susan F. Swift of the temperance army; Gwyneth Vaughan of Wales; Robert Kirtorian of Alind, Turkey; Hrant Kirechjian of Armenia; Mrs. Louise S. Round of Illinois; Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden of Massachusetts; Miss Belle Kearney of Mississippi the noted southern orator, and the general officers of each state and territory and other chiefs of the work. After the usual salute and exercises, the call for the convention was read. This said, in part:

"The roofs which echo the cries of 'sound money' echo back our voices as we affirm that neither money, nor the nation standing back of the money, can be sound if unrighteousness is placed before righteousness, greed of gain before the welfare of citizens. We meet, not as a political party, yet as those to whom politics seems a sacred duty; not as financiers, and yet as those profoundly interested in finance; not as statesmen, but, we trust, as stateswomen—the women of a great nation, baptised with a mighty earnestness, endowed with the clear vision which enables us to see that whatever else the nation and individuals constituting that nation may need, the primal need is applied righteousness. Truth, not alone in the inner parts of individual conscience and life, but truth in its outward expression, seen through righteous laws, righteous executed; social customs upon which has been set the seal of the Christ spirit; the establishment of a nation whose recognized province shall be to seek, not alone the greatest good to the greatest number, but the greatest good to all; these are our issues.

"Surely we should lift our white banner high when we realize the holy things of which it is an emblem. When 'protection,' as an issue, shall have been for ages forgotten, and the fact that 'nuance' was ever a problem shall seem like a dream; in the good day toward which we are hastening, when each man shall live for all other men, the world over, and altruism shall win its final glorious victory over egoism—in that day the full significance of our white ribbon movement will be seen."

"We have marched far since then, and the alignments of parties have changed. The labor movement has taken on proportions so vast that no one speaks lightly of it any more."

The convention took a recess until 2 p. m. The afternoon session opened with prayer by Mrs. Mary Cartland. The report of the treasurer, Helen M. Birker and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Katherine L. Stevenson, were presented and adopted. Then followed the report from each department of the Evangelical Alliance, for the churches. Then Mrs. Leonora Barry Lake, famous as an orator, will speak for the Catholic woman's temperance union; Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman for the Missouri W. C. T. U., and Master Chilton Fowler for the loyal temperance legion. To all of these welcomes, one response will be made by Miss Willard.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM.

The Free-Thought Enthusiasts Meet in Annual Congress in Chicago, To-day.

CHICAGO, Illinois, November 13.—There was little room to spare in the large auditorium of the national union building, this morning, when the annual congress of the American secular union and free-thought federation was called to order by Samuel P. Putnam, the national president. Every section of the country was represented by prominent liberals and free-thinkers, while an international coloring was given to the gathering by the presence of George W. Fouts, president of the British secular society, and Charles Watts, the famous British orator, and who, since the death of Charles Bradlaugh, has been the leader of the English free-thinkers and atheists. With these, on the platform, were seated T. C. Wakeman, of New York; John E. Remsburg, of Atchison, Kans.; Frank Stein, of Des Moines, Ia., and several others, including a number of women.

In opening the congress, President Putnam said that this gathering of the friends of progress and of liberty was of supreme importance. They needed to realize that their work was for all humanity; that they were not alone, but that thousands were in the ranks with them for universal mental emancipation and political freedom. Worldwide was the fellowship of free-thought and glorious was the opportunity for the future. The president urged renewed agitation for a constitutional amendment prohibiting states from interfering in religious matters, and laying down the principle that no state shall pass religious laws or interfere with the religious convictions of the people. The British delegates were then introduced and accorded an enthusiastic reception.

The Atchison Receivership. TOPEKA, Kas., November 13.—At Valley Falls this morning, Judge Myers ordered a special session of the Jefferson county court, for next Tuesday, to allow the attorneys to file the contempt papers. The Santa Fe case, has virtually been settled, and next Tuesday's proceedings will end the matter in the lower court. When the matter comes up in the federal court Nov. 23rd, the legal questions to be submitted are: First, the constitutionality of the law as applied to railroad companies; second, the constitutionality of the law as applied to alien land owners generally; third, the question of whether the law was ever legally enacted by the legislature.

The Base Ball Magnates. CHICAGO, Illinois, November 13.—To-day's meeting of the national league takes up the question of continuing the Temple cup series and will also probably discuss the propriety of abolishing the souvenir ticket nuisance. Crooks of Louisville, was sold to the Columbus club.

CHICAGO, Illinois, November 13.—Quite an unexpected turn of affairs occurred at the midnight session of the western league, this morning. Indianapolis and Minneapolis, which have heretofore opposed the admission of Columbus and Grand Rapids, agreed to their reception, and they were, therefore, granted franchises for four years. President Johnson's term of office was also extended to four years.

The Science of Advertising. LONDON, England, November 13.—Advice from the provinces say that Wilson Barrett's play, "The Sign of the Cross," which had its initial production at St. Louis during his American tour, last year, is arousing fierce fanatical opposition. At Boston, in Lincolnshire, an evangelical body, known as the "Open-air Mission," issued a leaflet of denunciation headed "Warning," meetings of protest were held in the market place and opposite the theater building itself, and missionaries harangued the multitude. The same scenes have been enacted elsewhere, with the result that the play has attracted overcrowded houses.

THE BASE BALL MAGNATES

CLEVELAND, Ohio, November 13.—The furious gale that swept over the lake from the west at daylight this morning brought trouble to two schooners off this harbor. Schooner "Marine City" was being towed into the river when the line parted and she drifted ashore.

Schooner "Benton" was soon afterward discovered outside the breakwater in distress and will probably be pounded to pieces.

The life saving crew realized that in the heavy seas nothing could be done to release the schooner and undertook to rescue the crew who were clinging to the masts. Men jumped into the icy water of the lake and exerted every possible effort to keep afloat, but were under the water most of the time.

The Castles Coming. LONDON, England, November 13.—Bernard Abrahams, counsel for Mrs. Castle, of San Francisco, said that the Castles would sail for America November 21st.

Markets Better. WALL STREET, N. Y., November 13.—Higher prices were the rule at the opening of the stock exchange this morning. Business is also more active, and on heavy purchases the active list advanced  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.; cordage guaranteed leading.

Venezuelan Arbitration Tribunal. LONDON, England, November 13.—The St. James Gazette says that the Right Honorable H. H. Asquith, M. P. and formerly home secretary, and Sir George Baden Powell, M. P., will probably be appointed to represent Great Britain on the Venezuelan arbitration tribunal.

Boycotted Rambler Bicycles. CHICAGO, Illinois, November 13.—Judge Grosscup is proceeding with the application of the Gormally & Jeffery bicycle manufacturing company for an injunction against the metal polishers' national union. The firm charge the polishers, through their national organization, with running a boycott on the "Rambler" and "Ideal" bicycles. The trouble grows out of a strike of polishers a year ago. Yesterday the matter was referred to the master in chancery, Bishop, who reported, this morning, in favor of granting a temporary restraining order, and will announce his decision later in the day.

Ivory, the alleged dynamiter, was committed for trial, to-day, by the Bow street police magistrate, in accordance with the prisoners request for protection as an American citizen. Mr. Carter, representing the United States embassy, is present to watch the proceedings. A witness was called who proved to be a government spy to the United States to watch dynamiters. He joined the United Irishmen in New York and was initiated into the Shamrock club in the presence of Tynan, Kearney and other prominent Irish agitators. Subsequently a new Irish camp was formed of which the witness was elected treasurer.
